“Hidden between beaches of sand and Camargue swamps, it is a haven of peace during low-season and an outstanding site for summer holidays by the sea...”

Travelers review

Best place to stay in the Camargue

“The Hotel l’Estelle was a gem. The location was perfect, just a few kilometres from Les Saintes-Maries-de-la-Mer so going into town, out for dinner, etc. was very easy. It’s also near several horseback riding places and it’s quite easy to head out to explore other towns such as Aigues Mortes. The rooms are very nice with views of a small lake, but the pool area is the best part, complete with a lovely jacuzzi on the edge of the lake. The best part of the hotel is the staff, particularly in helping to make suggestions about what to do. We did everything based on their ideas and we enjoyed ourselves immensely.”

Tripadvisor.com client

“I was lulled to sleep by the salty tang of the sea breezes! A lovely hotel situated in a quiet marshland. White horses, bulls and pink flamingos everywhere! The rooms are not large, but there is plenty of storage space. I had a lovely bath, gazing out my open window towards the lake, it was pure romance! The restaurant is excellent and has a wonderful and affordable wine menu. The staff was friendly and fun, and it starts with Sara at the front desk. Lovely, natural grounds and a lake walk! Tennis courts and a spa! The perfect eternity pool! What more could you want?”
